Temple and Covid-19

Temple University's motto is Perseverance Conquers and we will continue to meet the changing circumstances of the COVID pandemic with flexibility and resilience. Working together as a community to deliver a meaningful learning experience is a responsibility we all share.

Course Description:

What is the future of your TV? What kind of programming and content changes will the future bring? How are the television experience, the relationship between broadcasters and viewers, and technology changing? How will digital delivery services like YouTube, social media, streaming platforms, and cable evolve? Television is not going away, but how, where and when we interact with TV has changed and continues to re-define itself. In this course, you will learn about the history, trends, and contemporary issues concerning changes in TV; and you will take the driver's seat as critical thinkers and creators of content. Successful fulfillment of your assignments will require careful analysis of readings, lectures, interaction with your classmates, and comprehension of the course material.

Course goals:

The overarching goal of this class is to encourage you to think and create independently and analytically, and to enjoy the processes of thinking, learning and creating. This course is part of Temple's General Education (GenEd) program, which connects different fields of study and links them to contemporary issues. The goal of the GenEd program overall is that you become a critical thinker, active in the learning process. This means going beyond absorbing facts to being able to find, evaluate, analyze and organize information; to solve problems; and to generate and present your own ideas.

Specific learning goals of this class

The learning goals for this course reflect the GenEd goals in these specific ways:

- Critical Thinking, Information Literacy, Contextualized Learning, Communication Skills, and Lifelong Learning.
 - Locate, evaluate, and utilize sources of information to explore the technological origins, cultural and political impact and ongoing evolution of TV
 - Apply critical thinking skills to evaluate emerging technological, business, and programming challenges and solutions for converged media in order to gain a deeper understanding of television's future within the changing media landscape
 - Demonstrate competency in basic digital media techniques through the creation of a digital media project
 - Describe and evaluate television, cable and media using the terminology associated with these industries

- Demonstrate visual literacy by being able to recognize and describe formal elements of moving images

Area Goals

This course is part of the Arts area and aligns with all five of the Arts area goals:

- Experience and respond to a work of art or creative process;
- Recognize and interpret a work of art or creative process in a societal, historical or cultural context;
- Describe or evaluate a work of art or creative process using appropriate terminology;
- Demonstrate "appreciation" for the value of art in our lives and society; and
- Function as a member of an audience

Outcomes

These desired outcomes correspond to the learning goals. Successful completion of this class will strengthen your ability to

- Evaluate source credibility
- Apply standards of critical thinking to scholarly and popular texts
- Describe the evolution and impact of television
- Distinguish characteristics of television delivery systems
- Analyze characteristics of television production
- Properly use scholarly conventions of citing and referencing
- Plan and create basic digital media content using mobile technology
- Present your ideas orally, in writing, and via digital media
- Identify your role in the television ecosystem

Syllabus:

This syllabus is the roadmap for this course and serves as a contract between you the student, the instructor, and the university. Should you choose to remain enrolled in this course, you are consenting to abide by all of the policies herein. The syllabus defines a student's responsibilities, and details course grades, deadlines, and the course schedule. All efforts will be made to follow the syllabus closely. Any alterations to the syllabus will be announced on Canvas and in class.

Instructor Expectations:

Please note the following items are baseline expectations. These are the things you are supposed to do as a college student. Doing these things does not guarantee that you will receive an A in the course.

I expect you to:

- Communicate with me directly and respectfully when in need of help or when trying to resolve a concern.
- Treat all classmates and instructors with respect at all times – hate speech will not be tolerated.
- Understand that our community is diverse in myriad ways and that diversity strengthens our community.
- Pay attention to detail and follow directions.
- Turn in all assignments on time and in the stipulated format.
- Attend all class meetings and be on time for all classes and meetings with instructors.
- Complete all assignments and complete them to the best of your ability.
- Complete your own assignments and properly cite all referenced materials.
- Participate during small and large group discussion in class.

- Participate in positive, compelling, and meaningful ways during class discussion.
- Utilize course assignments to participate in effective ways during class discussion.
- Seek out writing help from the writing center, from me, or from the TA if necessary.
- Regularly check your grades and attendance on Canvas and update your personal grade doc
- Regularly check your feedback/rubrics in your OneDrive folders

How This Course Will Be Taught:

As per university policy, this class will operate online for the first two weeks of the semester. We are slated to return to class in person on Tuesday, 1/25/2022. Please note, I have taught this course, and the large section fully online several times. I have a contingency plan just in case we end up having to go fully online later in the semester. If we do need to go fully online, I may need to adjust some important logistical items, possibly including some of the weighted percentages. Whatever changes I make will be with your best interest in mind and I will communicate those fully if the need arises. I will make sure you have all of the information you need in order to succeed in the course if this scenario arises.

Starting on Tuesday, 1/25/2022, this course will be taught in person. During class time, we will screen episodes, have lectures, break out into small group discussions, and cover course material in a variety of ways. There will NOT be a final exam; however, you will be turning in a final project during finals week.

In order to fully participate in this course, you will need access to the following items: a computer (or Smartphone); Internet access; Temple email account; Temple OneDrive account; Word (which you can access through your Temple email/OneDrive account); Canvas; Netflix; and Hulu.

Please note:

- Limited resources are available for students who do not have the technology they need for class. Students with educational technology needs, including no computer or camera or insufficient Wifi-access, should submit a Student Technology Assistance Application located in TUPortal and linked from the Dean of Students Support and Resources webpage (<https://deanofstudents.temple.edu/support-and-resources>). The university will endeavor to meet needs, such as with a long-term loan of a laptop or Mifi device, a refurbished computer, or subsidized internet access. Internet Essentials from Comcast (<https://www.internetessentials.com/>) provides the option to purchase a computer for $150 and high-speed Internet service for $9.95 a month, plus tax. The Emergency Broadband Benefit (EBB) (<https://www.fcc.gov/broadbandbenefit>) is available to purchase Xfinity, Verizon, T-Mobile, and other internet services. Qualified households can receive a temporary monthly credit of up to $50/month toward their Internet service and leased Internet equipment until the program's funding runs out.
- On-campus computer labs have resumed normal operations and are available for student use.

Zoom Sessions/Recording:

I will record synchronous class sessions and make those recordings available to you via a Class folder in OneDrive. Temple's policy stipulates that any and all recordings in this class can only be used for the student's personal educational use. Students are not permitted to copy, publish, or redistribute audio or video recordings of any portion of the class session to individuals who are not students in the course or academic program without the express permission of the faculty member and of any students who are recorded. Distribution without permission may be a violation of educational privacy law, known as FERPA as well as certain copyright laws. No student should record the live class session except in cases of an approved accommodation from the Office of Disability Resources (DRS), as students with this approved accommodation must always have the ability to record sessions unless it would fundamentally alter the course.

Live Online Sessions:

Please note that the success of our class discussions and building our classroom community is largely dependent on every participant turning on the camera feature and both showing your face and speaking aloud during discussion. In an online environment, it can be difficult to establish rapport and the flow of conversation, making it especially important that we can all see each other's faces and hear each other's voices during discussion. However, I also know that there are many things that may prevent you from showing your face or speaking in class, so I will not require you to show your face or speak if you are truly uncomfortable or unable. Any student may make use of the chat feature to share thoughts and answers. Although I do not have the ability to record breakout sessions, please note that some students have a Temple sanctioned academic accommodation through DRS to record sessions, though those recordings will fall under the above sanctions and will not be posted.

Required Texts:

There are no required textbooks for this course. All of the readings and lesson materials for this course will be posted on the course website.

Streaming Services:

Throughout the semester, you will be asked to watch a variety of episodes outside of class. You will need both Hulu and Netflix to access episodes outside of class. Please make appropriate accommodations for the semester. The monthly cost of a basic Netflix plan is $8.99. The monthly cost of the basic Hulu plan is $5.99. There is one episode of Full House that used to be accessible on Hulu but no longer is. I am working on finding access, but if I cannot, you may need to purchase this episode for $1.99. I will follow up on this episode later in the semester.

Course Website: www.msp821.weebly.com

This course website will house all course materials and will be accessible to you at all times. Information found on the website includes the syllabus, lessons, video lectures, prezis, assignment instruction sheets and rubrics, models of assignments, assignment exemplars, course announcements, final project information, and takehome messages. Please note, both my course sections (online and in person) are operating off of this website. Please select the correct tabs for our in-person class.

Canvas:

In this course, Canvas will be a place where you can check your grades, check your attendance records, submit assignments and see course announcements. It is your responsibility to check Canvas for updated course announcements. When inputting grades into Canvas, I will only be using this space to show you how many points you earned on an assignment. Please ignore any grade percentages Canvas is telling you. I have created an Excel document for each of you to download and use to calculate your grade in real time by entering in your scores. I will also share my gradebook with you at the mid-point and end of the semester so that you can double check all grades are accurate. I will do this via google doc and use your TUIDs in numerical order to keep this information anonymous.

Please note – you should always consult your course schedule on the course syllabus for assignment due dates. The course schedule is the most accurate assignment information. Please do not only rely on Canvas to tell you when items are due.

Canvas Course Announcements:

I suggest you check the course announcements daily. If I post an announcement, you are responsible for the information in it. This system keeps things simple and challenges you to be a more active and accountable participant in your own education.

In Person – Technology In the Classroom:

Laptops, tablets, and smartphones are all valuable learning tools when utilized appropriately. You are certainly welcome to use those devices to follow along with lessons, to access course content during class, to take notes, and to take pictures of the board. However, any other use of these devices is unacceptable. If tasks like online shopping, texting, surfing the web, gaming, or working on assignments for other courses are more important to you than what I am teaching, then I suggest you drop this course. Once class has started, I expect you to pay attention to me, to your classmates, and to the screenings. Please do not come to my class and waste your time or mine by fiddling on your phone, tablet, or computer all class. My TAs and I reserve the right to ask you to leave the classroom if your device becomes a distraction to you or other students or if your use of these devices is disrespectful to instructors or other students. In the event that we ask you to leave, you will be marked absent for that class session. I also ask that you do not video record during our classes.

Outlook – OneDrive:

We will utilize OneDrive to provide you with your completed rubrics and feedback on assignments. You will each have an individual folder titled your Last Name, First Name – MSP 821 – Spring 2022. Prior to receiving feedback on your first assignment, we will provide you with a link to access your folder. You can also access this folder directly through your Temple Email Account/OneDrive once I publish it. I will use your temple email address to share this folder and will NOT give any outside account (including your personal email) access to this folder.

Once graded, we will upload your assignments and the assignment rubrics into this folder for you to access. Only you and course instructors can access your individual folder. We will be providing feedback on Reading Notes 1 – that feedback will be uploaded to your folder. It is your responsibility to know how to utilize OneDrive and to check the uploaded materials. If you need help navigating OneDrive, I expect you to ask for my help prior to our uploading of the first graded assignment.

Temple OneDrive – Class Folder

I have also created a class folder in OneDrive. You can access this folder through your Temple email account. All students in the course will have access to this folder. It will contain important class information and resources.

Attendance Policies:

Add/Drop Period

If you add this course after it officially begins, I expect you to complete the assignments you missed. It is your responsibility to reach out to me (as soon as you add the course) so we can determine new deadlines if necessary. You will not be excused from assignments just because you added the course after it officially began.

Daily Attendance – Spring 2022

This semester, each class period will be worth 4 attendance points. Lesson 2 and Lesson 20 will be worth 8 attendance points each, which will include watching a video prior to class and taking a short quiz on that information. Each time you attend class, you will receive 4 points. When we have online classes (like in the first two weeks of the semester and any others that may be mandated by the university), you will sign into Canvas attendance. If you do not sign in by 2:10pm, you will be marked absent. After class, we will check the zoom logs. Any student who was not signed in for the appropriate number of minutes will be marked absent (even if you checked in on Canvas).

When we are in person, you will sign in on a hardcopy attendance sheet when you get to the classroom. You will sign in using your name and your 9-digit TUID number. The TAs will monitor the sign in. If you sign in and leave, you will be marked absent. The TAs will collect the sign in sheets at 2:10pm, at which time you may no longer sign in. I expect you to be on time to our class meetings – that is your job as a student.

If you miss class due to an extenuating circumstance (as per the attendance policies in this syllabus), I will provide you with an alternate assignment to make up those points. Alternate assignments may include watching the recorded session or a video lecture from my online class and answering a short series of questions. Please see the Documented Emergencies section of the syllabus for more details.

Temple Attendance Policy during COVID-19:

To achieve course learning goals, students must attend and participate in classes, according to your instructors' requirements. However, if you feel unwell or if you are under quarantine or in isolation because you have been exposed to the virus or tested positive for it, you should not come to campus or attend in-person classes or activities. It is the student's responsibility to contact their instructors to create a plan for participation and engagement in the course as soon as they are able to do so, and to make a plan to complete all assignments in a timely fashion, when illness delays their completion. Faculty and students agree to act in good faith and work with mutual flexibility. The expectation is that students will be honest in representing class attendance.

Course Attendance and Engagement

Students will not be penalized for COVID-related absences, specifically illness.

If a student is unable to participate in an online class or course activity, or a portion thereof, including attendance at a live video session, the student should take the following steps:

- Notify instructors in advance of the inability to participate, if possible.

- If experiencing symptoms, isolate from others immediately, go to the Online Student Health Portal (<https://shs-portal.temple.edu/login.aspx>), log in, click on the COVID-19 tab and enter their symptoms on the Symptom Tracker.
- Keep up with coursework, as much as possible.
- Participate in class activities and submit assignments electronically, to the extent possible and as directed by the instructor.
- Reach out to the instructor if illness will require late submission or other modifications to deadlines or work requirements.
- If necessary, work with their instructors to reschedule any synchronous exams, labs or other critical academic activities.

If continued active engagement in a course is not possible due to illness or other COVID-related circumstances, students may wish to consider options with their instructor and/or advisor. These options might include withdrawal or the possibility of an incomplete grade.

Honesty, Flexibility and Academic Integrity

This temporary university-wide protocol relies on the honor and good faith of all university community members. It requires students to allow their attendance to be tracked through a central process, and to report the reason for their absence truthfully and in a timely fashion. It requires instructors to ensure that attendance is recorded and to trust the word of their students when they say they are ill. In all cases, Temple's commitment to honesty and academic integrity must remain strong, and the usual expectations for conduct and academic integrity will be enforced.

MSP 821 - Documented Emergencies:

I expect you to attend class regularly, and I expect you to turn in your assignments on time and completed to the best of your ability. Please note - late assignments will not be accepted. Late work will result in a 0 unless you have experienced a documented emergency/extenuating circumstance and have communicated directly with me as soon as possible prior to or closely following that emergency and I have agreed to an extension. In the event of a DOCUMENTED EMERGENCY, we can discuss the possibility of an assignment extension, an excused absence, or a makeup assignment. If you are experiencing a truly dire circumstance that prevents you from attending class or completing assignments, it is your responsibility to communicate with me.

- Emergencies Include: COVID-19 related circumstances; severe illness; hospitalization; severe illness of a child or family member for which the student is the primary caregiver; death in the family; death of a friend; funeral; severe psychological trauma; military service; imprisonment; major job interviews for an imminent career; natural disasters (volcano, hurricane, severe flooding, earthquake, etc.); and (something like) feeling so generally overwhelmed by life/school/work that you cannot function/get out of bed.
- Emergencies DO NOT Include: Waking up late, being scheduled to work, having car trouble, SEPTA trouble, going home to visit family, family reunions, family vacations, weddings, cruises, being in a band, not feeling well, NCAA competitions, career fairs, basic job interviews, etc.
- Note: please do not schedule a meeting with an advisor, group, professor, etc. during class time. Class time is set in your schedule. You selected this course and its meeting time. A meeting that you scheduled during class time or that takes place during class time will not be considered a documented emergency.

- Timely Contact: In the event of a documented emergency, it is the student's responsibility to provide documentation of the emergency as soon as possible, and preferably prior to when the assignment in question is due. Documentation for a missed class or missed assignment due to an emergency should be submitted no later than 1 week from the date in question. If you do not provide documentation or contact me within that time frame, you will forfeit the possibility of receiving an extension. If you are experiencing an emergency, please email me as soon as possible. For COVID-19 related illness/circumstances, you will not be required to provide formal documentation; however, the timeline on contacting me still applies. You will be expected to make up the work as soon as possible and no later than the date you and I establish.
- Please note: There will be no make-ups for the final project date; you must submit your project on time or forfeit all points. The only time when a final project may be delayed is in the event of a student qualifying for and being given an incomplete for the semester.
- If you have questions about what constitutes a documented emergency: please feel free to email me or speak with me via video chat. I am here to help you. If you need to talk, please contact me.
- Communicating your emergency: If you experience a true emergency, must attend a funeral, are having a serious medical or mental health issue, have a Temple-sanctioned (unmissable) event, are observing a religious holiday, experience a prolonged and severe illness, or experience any other truly unavoidable circumstance, I expect you to communicate with me directly via email and when possible, in person (or via video-chat). It is your responsibility to communicate with me. I will not seek you out. You must come to me.
- Parent Emails: You are in college. It is difficult. I have policies you may not agree with. Rest assured that I am a trained educator and have planned this course with the utmost care and attention to sound pedagogy. I do not want to hear from your parents. You are adults. It is your responsibility to communicate with me professionally should the need arise. I will not respond to emails from your parents (unless you are physically incapable due to something like prolonged hospitalization), nor do I want to hear what they think about my policies or my course. If your parent emails me, I will forward that email to you so that you can handle it directly.
- My Policies: I appreciate your concerns as a student; however, I do not want to hear if you think my policies are unfair. You can certainly believe they are unfair, but I assure you, I put a great deal of thought into my policies and work to make sure this course is fair for all students. Your inability to follow directions is not my cause for panic. I am more than clear (in this syllabus, on the instruction sheets, and in class) about my expectations and what constitutes a 0 on an assignment. I am also more than clear on what constitutes an extenuating circumstance. Do not insult me or make yourself look silly by emailing me after you make a mistake and telling me (or demanding that) my policies are unfair.
- I Am Human: I know I am a stickler for details and for policies, but please know, I am still human. I believe in helping you when you are experiencing extenuating circumstances. However, I won't know you are experiencing them if you do not tell me. Even if what you are experiencing is not an "official" extenuating circumstance, it is helpful for me to know if you are struggling in ways that affect your ability to complete this course. I can only help if I know what is going on. Also, please note that I am not a robot. I make mistakes. If something seems off to you in terms of a grade or something similar, please reach out respectfully, and I will be happy to rectify any errors on my part.

Disability Accommodations and Services:

- Please bear in mind that COVID-19 may result in a need for new or additional accommodations.
- Any student who has a need for accommodation based on the impact of a documented disability (e.g., physical, learning, psychiatric, systemic, vision, hearing, etc.), including special accommodations for access to technology resources and electronic instructional materials required for the course, should contact me privately to discuss the specific situation by the end of the second week of classes, or as soon as practical.
- If you have a need for accommodations, and have not done so already, please contact Disability Resources and Services (DRS) at 215-204-1280 in 100 Ritter Annex or go to their website <http://disabilityresources.temple.edu/> to learn more about the resources available to you.
- I will work with DRS to coordinate reasonable accommodations for all students with DOCUMENTED disabilities. After I receive your accommodation from DRS, I will contact you to set up a short meeting so that we can speak and make sure we are on the same page.
- Please Note: I am extremely sensitive to the needs of my students. I am open to considering and utilizing a variety of strategies to support your learning. However, I cannot accommodate you if I do not have your formal paperwork. If you do not provide me with formal DRS paperwork that stipulates your accommodations, I will be unable to accommodate you in a timely fashion. If you present me with accommodations after assignments are due, well into, or at the end of the semester, I cannot and will not go back and undo or overturn any grades or attendance records to accommodate you after the fact. It is your responsibility to seek the help you need from DRS. If you need help with that process, I am happy to guide you.

Academic Honesty:

Violations of academic honesty and integrity as well as any academic misconduct will be punished. These violations include cheating on assignments or examinations; lying about your contribution to an individual or group assignment; plagiarizing (the unacknowledged use of another person's labor: another person's ideas, words, or assistance); selling, purchasing, utilizing, or exchanging of term papers or other written assignments (including on sites like CourseHero); falsifying of information; reusing materials submitted in other courses without current instructor's permission; depriving another student of necessary course materials; interfering with another student's work; or being a disruption in class. Academic dishonesty or misconduct may result in a 0 on that assignment, an F in the class, and/or University mandated consequences. For more information about academic honesty, please consult the Temple University Undergraduate 2020-2021 Bulletin.

Academic Dishonesty – Plagiarism

- It is your responsibility to know what plagiarism is and how to avoid it. I have added information below to help guide you. Please note, intent does not factor into the idea of Plagiarism. Whether you meant to plagiarize or not does not matter. If you take another person's work and do not cite that person, you are plagiarizing, and you will be penalized. As noted above, plagiarism may result in a 0 on that assignment, an F in the class, and/or University mandated consequences.

- Please note, I have had to report past students to the university for serious and repeated instances of plagiarism. It does happen.
- Please know that it could not be easier to check to see if you plagiarized. I keep all past student assignments in my files. Canvas also has a plagiarism checker that all of your work is scanned through each time you submit. I can also easily Google phrases in your work that seem off. If you plagiarize, you will get caught and you will be penalized.
- If you need help avoiding plagiarism, please reach out to me for guidance.

Avoiding Plagiarism:

In order to avoid plagiarism, all submitted work must be the student's original work and must acknowledge the use of another person or entity's ideas, words, facts, or other types of assistance. You must provide citation for the following things:

- Quotations. Whenever you use a phrase, sentence, or longer passage written (or spoken) by someone else, you must enclose the words in quotation marks and indicate the exact source of the material, including the page number of written sources.
- Paraphrasing. Avoid closely paraphrasing another's words. Substituting an occasional synonym, leaving out or adding an occasional modifier, rearranging the grammar slightly, or changing the tenses of verbs simply looks like sloppy copying. Good paraphrasing indicates that you have absorbed the material and are restating it in a way that contributes to your overall argument. It is best to either quote the material directly, using quotation marks, or put the ideas completely in your own words. In either case, acknowledgment is necessary. Remember: expressing someone else's ideas in your own way does not make them yours. Please also note that taking another person's words and simply replacing a word or two OR replacing several words with the help of a thesaurus is still plagiarism. Simply changing a few words does not mean you are paraphrasing.
- Facts. In a paper, you will often use facts that you have gotten from a lecture, a written work, or some other source. If the facts are well known, it is usually not necessary to provide a source. In a paper on American history, for example, it would not ordinarily be necessary to give a source for the statement that the Civil War began in 1861 after the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln. But if the facts are not widely known or if the facts were developed or presented by a specific source, then you should identify that source.
- Ideas. If you use an idea or ideas that you learned from a lecture, written work, or some other source, then you should identify the source. You should identify the source for an idea whether or not you agree with the idea. It does not become your original idea just because you agree with it.

Course Citation:

Everything you cite in this course must be in accordance with the latest version (7th Ed.). You can utilize the following resources to help you with citation.

- APA Website: <https://apastyle.apa.org/>
- The Owl at Purdue (see APA guide): https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/purdue_owl.html

Student and Faculty Rights and Responsibilities:

Freedom to teach and freedom to learn are inseparable facets of academic freedom. The University has a policy of Student and Faculty and Academic Rights and Responsibilities (Policy #03.70.02), which can be accessed through the following link

<http://bulletin.temple.edu/undergraduate/about-temple-university/student-rights/>

Temple Expectations for Class Conduct

The best way to maintain a safe and focused learning environment is for everyone to get vaccinated. Masks must be worn by vaccinated and unvaccinated people in all indoor or in enclosed spaces (including classrooms, the Library, the TECH Center, the Student Center, shuttles/buses, administrative spaces, common areas in residence halls, etc.). For your general health and well-being, hand washing and monitoring your health is still highly recommended.

It is also important to foster a respectful and productive learning environment that includes all students in our diverse community of learners. Our differences, some of which are outlined in the University's nondiscrimination statement (<https://diversity.temple.edu/>), will add richness to this learning experience. Therefore, all opinions and experiences, no matter how different or controversial they may be perceived, must be respected in the tolerant spirit of academic discourse. However, please note that hate speech will not be tolerated in this course, and while we are all entitled to our own opinions, we are not entitled to create our own facts.

Treat your classmates and instructor with respect in all communication, class activities, and meetings. You are encouraged to comment, question, or critique an idea but you are not to attack an individual. Please consider that sarcasm, humor and slang can be misconstrued in online interactions and generate unintended disruptions. Profanity should be avoided as should the use of all capital letters when composing responses in discussion threads, which can be construed as “shouting” online. Remember to be careful with your own and others’ privacy. In general, have your behavior mirror how you would like to be treated by others.

Appropriate Communication

Should you choose to email me or the TAs with demands, threats (implicit or explicit), unjustified accusations, foul language, or clearly unfiltered anger, I reserve the right to not respond. Please note that I will forward these emails on to my supervisors, including the director and chair of the Media Studies and Production department. Please see the chart on the next page for detailed information on professional and appropriate communication.

Appropriate Communication

Graders	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • I will split you into 3 different grading groups. Zach, Kate, and I will each be responsible for grading 1/3 of the class's work. You will have the same grader for all of your reading notes assignments, though you may have a different grader for your final project. • I will post grading groups (so you know who to contact for help or questions) once add/drop period is complete and my roster is finalized.
Check in with me	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You may email me at any time during the course of the semester with any questions that you have about our course, assignments, lessons, etc. or if you need help with an assignment. • If you read an interesting article, see a TV series that reminds you of class, or want to share something academic with me, have at it – I love to see that you are thinking about class outside of the classroom.
What should I title the email?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Start every email title with MSP 821 • Include a short description as well • For example: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ MSP 821 – Can I schedule a meeting? ○ MSP 821 – Reading Notes Question ○ MSP 821 – Assignment Question • Please always CC Dr. Palmieri on all emails to the Teaching Assistants. Any student may always email Dr. Palmieri at any time.
What does an appropriately worded email look like?	Dear Dr. Palmieri, I am struggling with the reading for Reading Notes 2. I am free during your office hours this Tuesday. Would it be possible to meet with you then to ask some questions? Thank you. Sincerely,
What should I avoid doing in an email?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Demands – please do not demand things from me. It is rude. You are not my only student. If you need help, ask in an appropriate fashion. • Attacks – you may be dissatisfied with a grade, but please understand – in this course, you earn every grade you receive, whether it is an A or an F. If your tone and language are harsh, you will likely be unhappy with my response. • Grammatical Mistakes – An email with an instructor is a formal communication and should reflect professional standards. We all have typos, but before you send an email, give it a once over. Please do your best to word your email appropriately and in conventional English. • Rudeness – I am here to help you, but if you are rude, aggressive, or demanding, I reserve the right to ignore your email.
How long will it take for a response?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Although we may answer your emails outside of business hours, you should only expect us to respond to your emails during business hours. While we will make every attempt to contact you within a reasonable amount of time, a student must allow 2 full days for response to an email. • Do not wait until the last minute to email me about an assignment – we will likely not be able to respond.
Office Hours	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Oftentimes, I can help you via email and am happy to review assignments and provide feedback via email. • If you feel your needs require a video chat or an in-person meeting, I am happy to accommodate. • Teaching Assistants – the teaching assistant will be available only by appointment.

Attention to Detail

You will receive a 0 on an assignment for any of the following items:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Document submitted is not the appropriate and stipulated file type • The file is titled incorrectly – this includes an extra word(s), missing word(s), reversed last and first name, the incorrect reading notes number, etc. • The assignment is not submitted on time (through Canvas) • The document submitted is the incorrect document – for example, a paper for another class. • The document submitted is the correct assignment, but you wrote about the wrong content (episode, reading, journal prompt, etc.). • You bring me a hard copy version because you were having computer trouble • The assignment is plagiarized in part or whole – either from another student’s work or an outside source.
Unacceptable excuses for missing work and my answers to them	I don’t have Word on my computer.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Temple provides a free download of Word software through portal and through Microsoft 365. • Temple has thousands of computers on campus for student use • You can download OneDrive (or Google Drive) docs as Word docs
	I don’t know how to use OneDrive	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It is your responsibility to be able to use this basic resource. • You are capable of utilizing Microsoft’s help service • I am providing you with a how-to video
	I do not have a personal computer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Temple has thousands of computers on campus for student use and can assist distance learners. • It is your responsibility to make sure you have appropriate access (or have asked for help with gaining access).
	I did not have Internet access	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Temple has thousands of computers on campus for student use • Temple provides free Wi-Fi for student laptops on campus • Coffee shops, bookstores, Panera, and public libraries offer free Wi-Fi. • Temple has provided several resources to help you acquire reliable Internet access – it is your responsibility to utilize those resources.
Why do I care so much about directions and details?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Adhering to my specifications enables you, me, and my TAs to stay organized • Attention to detail demonstrates pride in your work • You will be expected to adhere to many stipulations in your careers, whether you are in media, finance, nursing, engineering, teaching, or anything else. Clients are picky, especially when you are handling millions of their dollars or sticking a needle in their arm to take blood. • You will be expected to follow directions as a human being – the electric company won’t care about your problems.

Grading Criteria:

A	An earned grade that represents outstanding and exceptional work, consistent attention to detail, and a profound understanding of course material.
B	An earned grade indicating competent, above average work and a strong understanding of course material.
C	An earned grade for work that is average and/or merely fulfills the basics of the assignment and course and lacks some important connection to or understanding of the course material. *Note: Although D- is a passing grade, a minimum grade of C- is required in General Education courses to receive credit and, in many programs, courses required by the major.
D	An earned grade given to work that does not fulfill the conditions of the assignment and lacks connection with the course material in multiple ways. A course grade of D indicates a fundamental lack of understanding of course material and lack of engagement in course materials.
F	An earned failing grade for late work, poorly executed work, plagiarism, or other failure to adhere to the requirements of academic integrity. A course grade of F indicates a fundamental lack of understanding of course material and lack of engagement in course materials.

Grading:

- We take great care to ensure that we are grading all students' work in the same way and based on the same criteria.
- The rubrics for the assignments help to ensure fair grading by providing you with the grading system and by clearly demonstrating the elements on which you will be graded.
- Please understand, despite our best efforts to grade fairly, we are human beings not robots. Sometimes there will be mistakes. As long as you approach us respectfully, we are happy to discuss your concerns and rectify any mistakes.

Grade Appeals:

- If you have a question regarding a particular grade, I am happy to review it. You may inquire about a particular grade in order to ascertain why that grade was given. Please note that inquiring about a grade does not guarantee a change of grade.
- If you feel that the grade was not justified, you may proceed through a formal grade appeal process. All grade appeals must be submitted in formal writing, in a word document, via email, no later than one week after the assignment in question has been returned.
- The submitted dispute should fully delineate the reasons the student believes another grade is warranted. Any supporting materials including the original assignment, the completed grading rubric, and email communication with the grader should be attached to the submitted dispute.
- The appeal must provide rational criteria for why the current grade is inaccurate. Feelings do not constitute rational criteria. Such claims as "I worked really hard on the assignment," "I'm confident in my work," "I feel I deserve a higher grade," or "the grade was unfair" are not valid reasons to appeal a grade. The student must offer some empirical proof that the grade is inaccurate.
- Disputing a grade is not a guarantee that the grade will be changed. Once the student has submitted a formal grade appeal and all supporting evidence, the instructor will carefully review the materials and examine the assignment. The instructor will decide if the grade deserves to be changed based purely on the quality of the work submitted by the student and no other criteria. The instructor's grade will be the final grade for the assignment and that grade may be higher, lower, or comparable to the original grade.

Assignment Help:

The TAs and I are always happy to help you with your assignments. We are here to answer questions and to provide you with the tools you need to succeed. We are always willing to work with students during office hours or by appointment and are happy to provide feedback on an assignment draft (prior to its due date) via email. Please allow us enough time to offer you help – We will not be able to provide feedback or help on the day an assignment is due. It is also difficult to assist you the night before an assignment is due.

Grading Scale (%)

A = 94-100 B+ = 87-89 C+ = 77-79 D+ = 67-69 F = 0-59
A- = 90-93 B = 84-86 C = 74-76 D = 64-66
B- = 80-83 C- = 70-73 D- = 60-63

Extra Credit Policy:

I do not give any. Please do not ask. Please note that if an instructor chooses to offer extra credit, that instructor is required by the university to provide all students in that course with an equal opportunity to complete the extra credit assignment. If you ask any professor at Temple for individual extra credit, you will be turned down. Complete your assignments on time and as instructed. Please do not email me an ultimatum that if you do not get a certain letter grade in my class you will not graduate or you will lose a scholarship. If you send repeated emails begging me to fix your grade or offer you opportunities at the end of the semester to go back and redo work, I will ignore them.

Grade Breakdown:

The breakdown of assignments and their points and percentages in your final grade are broken down in a chart on the following page. Below, you will also find the formula for calculating your weighted graded in this course.

Calculating a Weighted Grade:

	Attendance	(your points/120) (.15)
+	Screening Quizzes	(your points/75) (.20)
+	Reading Notes	(your points/100) (.35)
+	Final Project	(your points/150) (.30)
<hr/>
=		Total x 100 = percentage = letter grade

Weighted Grade Example:

	Attendance	(110/120) (.15) = .1375
+	Screening Quizzes	(65/75) (.20) = .1733
+	Reading Notes	(85/100) (.35) = .2975
+	Final Project	(135/150) (.30) = .27
=	Total x 100	= .8783 x 100 = 88% = B+
